

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT

Presented by the SRI&ETTC at Stockton University

In this exciting and informative workshop participants will address classroom and behavior management issues, and learn specific strategies to use to increase teacher effectiveness. After the workshop participants will be able to go back to the district with tools to implement in their classrooms the very next day.

Participants will learn :

- Principles of behavior management
- Analysis of the functions of behavior
- Antecedent-based strategies
- Discipline vs. punishment
- Establishment of rules and procedures
- Strategies for difficult students

Participants will have time to work and brainstorm together about discipline strategies and policies. Participants will also have adequate time to ask questions about what strategies work and why.

This workshop is beneficial for K-12 Teachers, ESL, SP ED, Supervisors, Student Support Staff, Counselors, CST, Administrators, and Supervisors struggling with student behavior issues.

The workshop will be presented by Judy Feinberg.

Ms. Feinberg is the former Supervisor of Curriculum & Instruction at Linwood Schools and an Education Specialist at the SRI&ETTC.
