

The Interactive ELA Classroom: Lessons That Involve Every Student (Grades 4-10)

PRESENTED BY THE SRI&ETTC AT STOCKTON UNIVERSITY

Whether you are working in a regular education, special education or gifted classroom, you will find easy-to-implement lesson ideas in this workshop that will get your students actively engaged in learning. Low-prep and no-prep lessons will be featured.

During this interactive session, participants will learn how to...

- give students the opportunity to practice revising and editing strategies guaranteed to improve student writing proficiencies.
- engage every student with interactive lessons using pre-conference reading focus cards, organizers, mini-lessons, and content-driven exit tickets.
- have students participate in meaningful, collaborative discussions with diverse partners.
- Participants will leave the session with low-prep and no-prep materials designed to engage multi-level learners.

The workshop is geared towards Literacy coaches, English Language Arts teachers, administrators, and professional developers responsible for the academic achievement of students in grades 4-10.

The workshop will be presented by Janice Malone.
