

LEADING YOUR CLASSROOM

Presented by the SRI&ETTC at Stockton University

Do you feel disorganized? Are students not engaged in your lessons? Would you like to try some new instructional strategies? Are you frustrated with the behavior of your students? Does that seem to throw you off your game? These feelings can happen to novice or veteran teachers alike! Spend a day exploring a variety of techniques that foster classroom management considering such topics as instructional strategies, classroom set-up, using space and time appropriately, and proper use of classroom guidelines. Additionally, take time to explore the huge collection of behavior management tips, behavior modification suggestions, and mindfulness exercises for any situation - and how to properly implement the strategies. Come to enjoy a day getting rejuvenated!

BYOD Event! Please bring your own device. A website of all referenced resources will be provided at the workshop.

The workshop will be presented by Jamie Saponaro.

Ms. Saponaro is a former elementary and middle school teacher, and District Technology Coordinator. Jamie is currently an instructional strategies consultant and educational technology trainer providing professional development throughout New Jersey.
