

UNIQUE METHODS FOR TEACHING YOUNG CHILDREN EMPATHY

Presented by the SRI&ETTC at Stockton University

Empathy is a difficult idea to teach to young children. Understanding empathy and appropriate behaviors is more important than ever. Training in empathy needs to be developed and nurtured. Developmentally, an abstract idea such as empathy is difficult for young children to understand. This workshop will provide teachers with the tools to teach young children empathy. Demonstration lessons using hands-on activities will be presented. Participants will leave with lesson plans, copies of materials presented, manipulative ideas and techniques to teach young children appropriate behavior towards others.

The workshop will be presented by Karen Patterson.

Ms. Patterson is a retired elementary teacher. Her interest in teaching empathy to teachers, staff and young children developed through experiences as a mother of a special needs child and through her teaching experiences of twenty-five plus years.

For more information or to register, visit
www.ettc.net.

Date: April 7, 2020

Time: 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Cost: $106 or 4 ETTC Hours

Course cost includes:

- Course Materials
- Certificate of Completion
- 3 Professional Development Hours

Location: SRI&ETTC
10 W. Jimmie Leeds Road
Galloway, NJ 08205
609.626.3850
www.ettc.net

SRI&ETTC Stockton University School of Education

Making K-12 Professional Development Work for You!

The SRI&ETTC provides professional development opportunities for PreK-12 educators, technology coordinators, and school administrators throughout New Jersey. Extensive Public Calendar and Custom on-site Professional Development in a variety of topics for in-services and coach-mentoring at a time and location that works for your district.

WWW.ETTC.NET