

QUESTIONING: THE KEY TO STUDENT ENGAGEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Presented by the SRI&ETTC at Stockton University

This hands-on workshop is designed to increase teachers' awareness of questioning techniques and strategies in order to create cognitive challenges in their classrooms through their questions. They will understand the different reasons and purposes of questioning (assessing understanding, building understanding, and explaining learning), and will be able to:

- Utilize higher-level questioning
- Give (appropriate, meaningful, and specific) feedback
- Allow for appropriate wait time
- Use follow-up questions
- Promote student created questions
- Understand the difference between open and closed questions
- Use Bloom's Taxonomy
- Incorporate Costa's Levels of Questioning
- Promote student cognitive engagement

The workshop will be presented by Jamie Saponaro.

Ms. Saponaro is a former elementary and middle school teacher, and District Technology Coordinator. Jamie is currently an instructional strategies consultant and educational technology trainer providing professional development throughout New Jersey.
