

School Law Boot Camp for School Administrators Summer 2021

Stay up-to-date on current school law with the School Law Series at the SRI&ETTC

Today's school leaders work in a dynamic, fast-paced school law environment. Each day brings new changes in statute, code and case law. Administrators, whether veteran or new, are challenged to keep up with the changes. In these intensive School Law workshops participants will review current legal standards on Student Rights, Employer and Employee Rights, and Special Education. There will be an emphasis on HIB and recent special education decisions.

HIB Including Social Media

Tuesday, July 20, 9 am - 12 pm

The HIB module will focus on the new HIB regulations. We will go back to the basics and move forward to review relevant school law cases. We will apply the law, review the legal standards and discuss proper investigation documentation.

Student Rights and First Amendment Rights

Wednesday, July 21, 9 am - 12 pm

The Student Rights module will focus on student rights and responsibilities, including constitutional rights such as freedom of speech, disciplinary actions, social media, 24/7 rule, student athletic contracts, transgender rights. This module will also focus on Special Education, and the district's obligations under the law for special education and Section 504 Plan students, including an emphasis on development of the IEP, student discipline, HIB, home-instruction and graduation.

New Legal Considerations in K-12 including COVID

Tuesday, August 10, 9 am - 12 pm

New legal issues related to K-12 emerge every day. This session will discuss current considerations surrounding laws and regulations enacted during the recent COVID state of emergency, and what powers and tools school districts have now and in the future in addressing emergency situations. As well as review new laws and cases throughout the 2021 year.

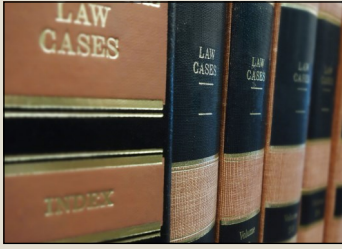

Employee Rights Including New

Non-Certificated Rights Law

Wednesday, August 11, 9 am - 12 pm

The Employer and Employee Rights module will focus on employer and employee rights and responsibilities, including constitutional rights such as freedom of speech, disciplinary actions, grievances, tenure charges, non-renewals, and reductions in force, among other topics. This interactive workshop will include mock tenure charges where we will walk you through the tenure charge process, concentrating on the district's roles and responsibilities. We will apply the law, review the legal standards and discuss proper documentation.

See registration information on the next page.

School Law Boot Camp for School Administrators Summer 2021

at the SRI&ETTC at Stockton University, Galloway, New Jersey

INSTRUCTORS

School Law Boot Camp will be presented by Mr. William S. Donio, Esq., Cooper Levenson and Ms. Amy L. Elco, Esq., Cooper Levenson

Mr. Donio is graduate of the Columbia University School of Law. Mr. Donio chairs Cooper Levenson's Education Law Practice Group. He has served as solicitor and special counsel for numerous boards of education, and is on the assigned counsel list for two joint insurance funds. Mr. Donio is also an adjunct professor at Rutgers School of Law Camden.

Ms. Elco is a Partner at Cooper Levenson where she specializes in education law including education-related litigation and special education matters. She is lead attorney for numerous education clients in the region. Ms. Elco also is an adjunct Professor at Stockton University teaching School Law in its Masters in Education Degree Program. Ms. Elco graduated from the University of Pittsburgh Law School and is certified to practice in the United States District Court of New Jersey as well as New Jersey State Courts.

Audience: Superintendents, Principals, Assistant Principals, Supervisors, and Directors

Modality: Workshops will be presented online through the Zoom Platform

Cost per session: $82.00 or 3 ETTC Hours per session

Cost for four sessions: $328.00 or 12 ETTC Hours

Registrations: www.etc.net

Information: Courtney Regan (609) 626-3866 courtney.regan@stockton.edu

Darice Pico (609) 626-3867 darice.pico@stockton.edu

Although we encourage participants to attend all sessions, participants can register for a single session if it best fits the needs of their district.